message of sympathy to consumers the other day, he meant every one of us. Consumers are even more numerous than taxpayers, because even those with no incomes are consumers.

It sounded fine to learn that our Government is going to get on the ball and make sure we are not hornswoggled, poisoned, gypped and bamboozled. It sounded a little, also, like the President thought each citizen needed a keeper, and the keeper is to be a Washington

A little reflection, though, will show that some of the conditions the President deplored exist because the Eederal government hasn't been living up to responsibilities it already has under existing laws. For example, false advertising has been a responsibility of the Federal Trade Commission for many years.

Yet, the Government does some "false advertising" itself, on a grand scale. It tells taxpayers, for instance, that their

When the President delivered his Social Security taxes are insurance premiums, but admits in court that they are just taxes, and that legally the payer is only entitled to what Congress decides he shall have at the time he becomes eligible for benefits.

> And, when the President spoke of the high prices consumers must pay for some items, could he have been thinking of farm products? Here, the Government rigs the prices of many of them, and soaks the consumer-taxpayer for the overhead as well. And the Government also encourages producers of needed farm commodities like milk to form combinations in restraint of trade which would be illegal in steel or toys, for

> If business were to adopt some of the Government's own standards, the President's proposed consumer council would really have something to complain

Why Is Unemployment High?

The American people, on the average, have more money to spend than they had a year ago. Pay scales are higher. There are, in many lines, more good jobs

Yet seasonally adjusted unemployment rates continue to run close to the level of a year ago. Something like six per cent of the people who want to work aren't able to find it.

Why does this anomaly exist?

There is, of course, no single answer. But one can place a finger on important causes of substantial unemployment in the period of high industrial activity. One of these, according to leading economists, is the increase in the minimum wage, and the extension of federal wage-hour law coverage, that occurred last September.

This increase barred from jobs those workers who, because of inexperience or some other cause, simply weren't worth the higher rates to the employer.

There should be a moral in this for the future—as further increases, and further extensions, are urged upon

Take, for example, the retail trade which, by its nature, offers work and learning opportunities for the unskilled. Retailing operates on an extremely modest profit margin in an intensely competitive business climate. So, if wages are forced beyond a certain point, by artificial means, fewer marginal workers will be able to find jobs.

It is an old story. When wage levels fail to take account of productivity, unemployment becomes a constant problem. -Williamsport Sun-Gazette Occupying a board seat one has to be a good listener as well as a sound, reasonable individual who is available with advice and action. Fortunately for Stroud Union constituients Dr. Lim is blessed with both of these qualities.

His most recent accomplishment was the establishment of a revised administration body to direct athletics in the school system. It wasn't a quick decision nor a biased verdict reached by the medical man who has resided in Stroudsburg the past 23 years.

Dr. Lim sought advice from all walks of life. He cornered parents, other school directors, school adminstrators and the girl and boy who participates in the program. Weighing all of the evidence after another series of sessions with men and women in the know, the graduate of Southern California University came up with a plan which had no dissenters.

The athletic revision program is only one of many projects that Dr. Lim devised for the betterment of Stroud Union's School District. Naturally all were not miracles but they did prove that the area citizens interested in school affairs know they have in Dr. Lim a man who is interested in them, their offsprings and their dollar.

JFK Weighs Asking For Emergency Powers

By Robert S. Allen

and Paul Scott Washington - President Kennedy is exploring the intensifying possibility of seeking emergency powers from Congress to meet any crisis that might arise from the Soviet's unyielding policy on West Berlin and South Vietnam and the threat of civil war in France.

Twice within the past week the President has conferred with his chief military and foreign policy advisers on whether the menacing international situation warrants such drastic action. At one White House meeting, the President discussed asking Congress for a sweeping declaration of national emergency to obtain the additional authority some of his advisors feel is urgently required in this critical Aides say the President feels

The proposed emergency powers would be a striking demonstration to the Communist world that the U.S. is united and de-

'Gromyko is threatening new Soviet pressure in these vital areas if we fail to agree to negotiations on his terms. This is an unusual turnabout for the Kremlin. We must be ready for any eventuality.

Exchange Writers

MOSCOW (AP)—A proposal by the Chicago Tribune to exchange columnists with Izvestia, the Soviet government newspapers, will not be accepted, at least not now, Soviet sources said Thursday.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—perhaps your own, too.

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Such an insignificant saving—is it worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can often mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes might have saved... and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.

Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.

Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.

Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

lots of fun. Since one or more can he made in an evening's time from scraps of lumber, it provides constructive entertainment at very ittle cost, You will probably find all materials needed if you salvage a grocery box.

If there is a youngster in the family, have him stand by when you start building. He will be fascinated with your skill as a craftsman and stimulate his inerest in woodworking.

The bird house built from patern offered below is designed primarily for bluebirds. If you hang the finished house in a tree on a long wire it eliminates possibility of having a cat disturb the birds. To build, you merely trace the pattern on wood specified, saw and assemble the house exactly as step-by-step directions indicate. The decorations can be traced directly from the pattern and painted with the color and in exact position shown on pattern. This insures "amateurs making like pros". There are five other bird house patterns available, a Bird Feeder from Pattern 9 Swedish Bird House Pattern 10; two Wren Houses from Patterns 11 and 111 and a Martin House from Pattern 69.

Kane May Lose 'Ice Box' Title

KANE, Pa. (AP) - Kane's desire to lose its old unwanted title of "ice box" of the state must have touched the heart of Ole Man Winter. The frosty gent cooperated with vim and vigor this year in putting the title, not the community, in the deep freeze.

He even bowed out graciously without a battle Tuesday night when Spring officially arrived at 9:30 p.m. The ground was clear of snow. The temperature was about 25 above, not below zero.

True, he snuck back in Wednesday, but it looked as if his bark would be worse than his bite. A wet snow started falling Wednesday morning, but only about a half-inch had accumulated by early afternoon. The temperature was around 31 above.

Ormandy Urged To Slow Down

gene Ormandy, famed conductor America and by some Eskimos. of the Philadelphia Orchestra, has been advised by his doctors to slow down for the rest of the sea-

C. Wanton Balis, president of the Philadelphia Orchestra Association, said yesterday the 62-yearold Ormandy is fit, but that "he has been carrying a heavier load than any man should.'

Ormandy left a week ago for a California vacation and was scheduled to return for a senior student concert March 26. Under revised arrangements William Smith, the assistant conductor, will handle this and a second student concert April 2, as well as a Baltimore concert March 28.

But Ormandy will conduct here March 30 and 31, an orchestra spokesman said, adding that what further curtailments will be made in his conducting schedule have not been decided.

Twenty-two concerts remain this season, and the orchestra is booked to play 25 concerts on a transcontinental tour starting May 27.
